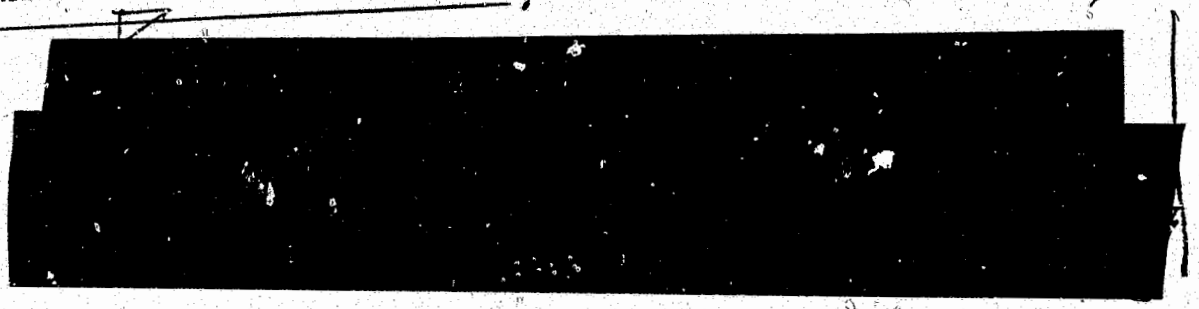
DEPARTMENT OF STATE A/CDC/MR
REVIEWED BY H.S. DATE 7/a/12
PORTIONS DENIED AS INDICATED

DECLASSIFIED E1



Messrs. Trimble, Tyler, Linebaugh, Allen and I went over a telegram commenting on a British proposal for disengagement. This is a tricky subject, and I rather hope will not be an agenda item at the possible summit conference.

It snowed hard this afternoon. Tonight E and I took Sasha and her friend Betsy Bell to the Embassy Club for dinner. We all played bingo afterwards, but none of us was amongst the winners. It is an amusing game, even when conducted on such a vast scale.

Thursday, April 10, 1958

I talked to Jean Monnet on the telephone this morning and still hope to extract from him [redacted] data on the early days of the Schuman Plan for transmittal to the impatient professor in Oklahoma who has written me several times on the subject.

Fritz Heine lunched with me. He is Press Chief of the SPD, born in 1904 in Hannover, the son of an organ builder. From 1933 to 1946, as a member of the SPD Central Committee, he was in exile successively in Prague, Paris and London. He is a quick, wiry, bright man who neither smokes nor drinks. As a proponent of the SPD

DECLASSIFIED